THE NEW FORD AND THE OLD FOLKS

On the seat of his new Ford, And "Ma" was there too.
Said he, "Now, don't you get sherry,
But it's what I've always wanted,
And we're going to have what's due."
Said he, "Now, don't you get sherry,
I can drive as well as Peary,
Or any other man that you can say, So we're going to have what's due."
We are going to have what's due, Chorus:
"Put on your best hat and tucker,
Your dress with the collar down,
And we'll soon be speeding on our way, For the Ford is the best of the new,
And we're going to have what's due,
And we're going to have what's due,
Now they're on their homeward way,
And the light are all and gray,
Still they feel well satisfied,
As the old man steers the wheel,
He is steering right on with pride,
So he had a great time of it,
And we soon will have another,
So he had a great time of it,
Toward our home by the river,
We will spread in the "Flicker," See we're been to the "Flicker" play."

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Knight and Rev.

heard Roland Hayes sing at City Hall.
They motored to Danville Junction, but were forced to turn back because of poor roads. The party returned ear-

A meeting of committees of the "Althe home of Mrs. J. E. Brown, Rev. N.

for Wednesday evening.

The funeral of Edward R. Kneeland was held from his home on Maple street, Thursday afternoon, Jan. 28, Rev. N.
Pearson officiating. Members of Norway Lodge I. O. O. F., the Grand Army, Relief Corps and Daughters of Veterans attended. Burial was in the cemetery.

Remains were taken to the home of Mrs. O. B. Tracy, where they will be placed in the receiving tomb in Norway

Will A. Bicknell has been housed with the prevailing fair for several days past.
His brother, Ben, says he is so fuzzy that Orin L. Stone expects to return to his employment in the shoe factory as his hand shows marked improvement. He has been away from his work since the first of September, when his left hand was crushed. One finger failed to heal and four months ago this was amputated, but the process of loosening the injured nerves has been successful.

Mrs. Oscar Douglas and Mrs. Perley Doughty of West Paris were in town on business, Friday.

You should read the small ads in the Intelligence Column. Haven't you something for sale?

Another dose of real winter weather arrived Friday. Temperatures below zero was registered and a high northwest wind drove the cold into houses and kicked up six inches of light snow that fell two days before. Trains from the west were late but local conditions did not feel the effects of the gale. Fay Blake kept the bus running on time and this was appreciated. Temperature at noon was four below zero and ten below during the evening.

Mrs. O. Warren Brown gets her picture in the Lynn and Boston papers as hostess of the Lynn Women's Club. She is a beautiful woman, with a fine sense of humor. She takes a good picture and will be remembered as the wife of O. W.
Brown, whose father is G. Julian Brown of this town.

George Robertson is back on his job as yard foreman at the C. B. Cummings

Norris block and is to sell soft drinks and hot dogs.

their own hands."

The interior of Stone's Pharmacy is being treated to a coat of white paint, and a decided improvement is noticeable.
Job printing is done while you wait at this office. No necessity of sending out of town for each work if you will wait long enough in town. Try it.

Mrs. A. C. Braden of Water street got the center table reading lamp. It was a bargain and appeared in the Intelligence Column. Only one more.
Quick sale and small profits.

Nate Merrill: "The bows of the stove at the Weathers have collapsed and something must be done. It wouldn't do to let this building burn!" It was done.
A bigger and safer stove was set up.
It was borrowed of Sanborn.

We turned over a new leaf on the coming of the New Year. Burnt every old cob pipe, we had some fifteen. Then bought two new cob pipes. Both exactly alike. For one we paid 10 cents and the other five cents. We buy of home merchants.

Hockey is running a close second to lively fun and perhaps appreciated more

Mellie's Weekly Letter

We are in Philadelphia this week, all well and out as seems to please the people. Last night was "Norway and South Paris Night." There was a good attendance, although it was very cold. Mr.
Harry Jordan held a reception on the stage after the show and we met a lot of people who come to Norway and Paris for the summer. We all enjoyed seeing old friends. Every one is very nice to us. Harry Jordan is one mighty fine man and doing all he can to do to give us a good time. He took us all out to his home and we enjoyed the trip very much. We go to Newark, N. J., next week and the evening to Brooklyn.
It looks as if we should see quite a bit of country if we don't get tired. Well, if they should get tired of us, we know where we can go, don't we? They took state and I to the Atlantic Hall to see and we saw the "Liberty Bell" the table on which the Declaration was signed and many more historic relics. We have made a few records and hope to make more.
The fiddlers are getting much excited over what I am doing. I am getting challenges to do everything from fiddle to fight from all over the country.
Regards to all."

Comparison Paris
Cost Figures

In another column is a carefully prepared comparison of costs in the town of Paris. It shows the number of scholars, valuation of town, total commitment, rate per cent and cost of education together with the number of polls.
Study it and draw your own conclusions. It almost seems there must be some mistake.

It shows that 52 years ago the per capita amount expended for schools was $4.00 per pupil. In 1924 the amount was $73.30. The number of scholars was 15 less than at the earlier date.

Is it necessary? Has education become a popular fetish for the lavish expenditure of cash?

Our present commitment was in 1884 when $9,781 was the amount and the rate on a thousand was $7.80. The largest was last year with $101,457.00 and a tax rate of $42.00 a thousand.
The expense of operating town office bills has increased more than six times.
Look it up. Figure it out. It shows the drift. Is it necessary?

No doubt other towns if figured out, would show a like increase.

Roger Hutchins' Letter

Something About Mellie and "Gram."

Comment on the Summer Hotel and Boom Norway.

Roger Hutchins of 103 Highland Ave., Jersey City, N. J., cannot forget Norway in his routine of bustle with business and fraternal organizations. He resided here at one time and cannot forget his country cousins. We acknowledge programs and clippings related to Mellie's theatrical doings, and realize that the Maine fiddler and "Gram" are making a genuine sensation with city audiences who are surprised not to care a rap for way down East capers.

We quote extracts from Roger's letter:
"Mellie will show at the R. F. Albee Theatre in Brooklyn the week of Feb. 8 and present the cap won in the fiddlers' contest under the auspices of the Brooklyn Chamber of Commerce. Needless to say, Mellie will play with city troupe while in Brooklyn. Wish you all could take the time to run over and visit with me, incidentally see Mellie in action at the theatre. Mellie will turn out en masse to welcome Mellie and "Gram" and you won't need a spy glass to find me right there when the curtain rises the opening night."

"Shorty" Cook writes me he is compiling a scrap book of items on Mellie.
Will have to supply him with clippings during the fiddlers' engagement here.

"Relative to the hotel by the lake project, I believe it will become a reality and that ere long you will see in the making definite and substantial plans for
an institution that the whole state may be proud of. Your location is ideal, surrounded on all sides by attractive country."

"Maine is becoming more and more popular each year. People here to go there. I believe it will become a reality
and that ere long you will see in the
be proud of. Your location is ideal, surrounded on all sides by attractive country."

Medal Offered

The Auxiliary of the Wm. Henry Stone Post, American Legion is offering a medal to an eighth grade girl who excels in the following: Honor, Courage, Leadership, Scholarship, Service and Americanism. This is a part of the National Americanism program carried on by the Auxiliary and will be an annual affair starting in February this year and in September of succeeding years. Any girl in any eighth grade for the medal which will be awarded at the close of the school year.

Good News From Philadelphia

Edward S. Paret of Philadelphia writes of Mellie's success in the City of Brotherly love:

"I promised you I would write to you about 'Norway Night' at Keith's. It was a real treat to make my way in Norway and South Paris night and my paper so often states, 'A delightful evening was spent by all.'"

Just preceding Mellie's turn, Harry Jordan bore the curtain and in a delightful speech told of the night, what it meant to him and what it meant to Mellie. I know from what he said that he is behind in making his way in his thoughts were back in Oxford County, among the hills and dales, the lakes and rivers, that he loved as a boy, the pathos of the old, the beauty of the new, the dear his boyhood surroundings still are in his mind.

No picture drawn of the "old swimming hole" with all its charm to the man born in the country, who has left it all behind to make his way in the great cities, has half the ring of sincerity, of love for nature as Harry's words to us; nor was his praise of Mel-lie's qualities less sincere and more particularly was his reference pleasing when he spoke of having danced all the dances to be shown to the very tunes Mellie was just to play for us. He invited all who knew Mellie and Gram to meet them on the stage after the performance, where Mellie would hold a little reception.

And now for Mellie's part. As the curtain went up, an interior of an old barn was disclosed, a man could be seen with a lantern in his hand, through the windows in the rear, walking toward the stage. He was carrying a bundle of discarding in the distance, his coat open with snow, then the young and elderly came trooping in, all full of laughter, just as we would expect a crowd of congenial souls to be expected to have expected the peddler to get the kitten and found a package all done up nicely which contained the amount of $5,000 in Central Maine Power Co. stock, bank books, valuable papers, deeded etc. The kitten was later found shut in the sideboard drawer, nestling on the towels and tablecloths.

Mrs. Esther Knapp, widow of a Civil War veteran, the central figure of the organ, died suddenly last fall, supposedly from heart failure, and her husband, a professor, who devised the ventilation system to be used on the vehicular traffic under the Hudson, at New York, will be the beneficiary of the money.

The organ was sold, with all its ap-belongings of Mrs. Knapp, who for five years had lived alone on a government pension.

Mrs. Emory turned the bankbooks and shares over to James H. Small, local representative of Professor Willett in settling the estate.

PLANNING MEETING
The local farm bureau had a planning meeting, Jan. 22nd, for the demonstration of the year of 1926. I wonder what the county agent will find a sucker to take on the ordinary spraying demonstration this year. Last year Mr. Thomas, the county agent, was at my farm one Sunday in May, looking for someone to spray demonstration orchard. As Mr.
F. G. Dunn had consented to demonstrate it, being a request of Mr. Gardner to obtain the best methods for the control of apple scab. Mr. Thomas said he would help me put it on, but I told him I could tend to that all right.

I think his interest in the demonstration died, then and there. The fact is, my farm is only a thirty minute ride from his office. He has not been up to the farm since his first visit. If this is a sample of the different demonstrations, I wonder if Mr. Gardner has made any inquiries in regard to the liquid and dust demonstration, or is his interest in the matter only a county agent.

The results of my spraying were very satisfactory, the demonstration orchard of 45 McIntosh trees have been set free from scab. I picked one hundred thirty-five apples from the trees. I have been out every scabby apple, which totaled about five bushels.

I sprayed six times, the last time the third of July. My faith in the spraying method is good enough so I have bought a mounted outfit. A friend, of more capacity than the Arlington, which I have been using, has loaned me one.

"I spoke in my last letter about Mel-lie's attending Poor Richard Club and Rotary Club, his manager did not think of it, he told me Mellie was not a young man, that they don't all humanely possible to keep him well and happy, that they looked after him as if they were very frail glass. And I am sure he is right in his refusal to go if it had been granted in one city, they could not refuse in other cities.

"Norway has a right to be proud in its possession of two such fine people.
My one hope is that they may be spared many years of health, so that they may reap the reward that their clean loving lives have made for them. God send them to enjoy in greater comfort than they have ever known."

Introduced From Mellie's Town Don G. Seitz, "Was in Boston last Friday night at the City Club. Mr.
Whiting of the Herald and his wife introduced to a large audience as from "Norway, Maine, home of Mellie Dunham." Thus a new chapter in the history of interest you to know that the Keith people have ordered 50,000 of the Norway supplements to be distributed as Mellie and Gram's friends of ours. Some boom for Norway!"

CLERKS TO HAVE ANNUAL BALL

Norway Clerks will hold their 32nd ball, Tuesday evening, Feb. 9, at Norway Open House and a grand time is anticipated. Committees are busy completing the arrangements to make this affair one of the jolly dances for the winter.

The Recreation Broadcasters of Portland, who have been heard many times from various stations, will furnish music.
There are nine musicians in the team. A concert will be rendered at 8 o'clock followed by the dancing at 8:30 o'clock.
Eugene A. Desrochers will be floor manager.

Decorations will be in charge of Perley May and assisted by all the clerks. Refreshments will be served at intermission.
All balcony seats are reserved and were placed on sale at Stone's, Feb. 3. The clerks have floor tickets which they are selling.

Will leave South Paris at 8 p. m., returning at intermission and after the ball.

AGRICULTURAL CLASS NOTES

Thirty-three pupils are enrolled for the course this year.

The class held a box supper and social at the gymnasium on Wednesday evening to raise funds for the father and son supper. The class was very successful in their efforts.

Each pupil in the class invited a high school boy and both invited young ladies who provided a box of food. The boxes were sold at auction and partners thus selected for the supper. Chocolates were furnished free. After lunch games were furnished those not desiring to join the dance that entertained for two hours.

True's orchestra furnished music for the evening. The committee was comprising Freddie Lewis, chairman, aids were Clayton Hall, Kenneth Aldrich and Asa Packard.

The poultry class is overhauling the brooder house belonging to the school and making ready for the spring hatch.
A Queen incubator, 400 egg capacity will be set on February 17. Howard Coaster will have 125 eggs from his pen of R. I. Reds, Wm. Walker will furnish 125, Alpheus Jackson 125, and Instructor Brown intends to start with 125 to test the fertility of certain eggs. All eggs are the R. I. variety. The hatch should come off about March 10, when the new electric brooder will be used. Another setting will be started after the first hatch arrives.

There are fifteen students to take the state milk testing examinations for certificates allowing those who qualify to be official testing anywhere within the state.
Examinations will be given by Mr.
Brown at the Agricultural room the last of this month.

NEWFOUNDLAND SALMON STORY

It is of record that J. E. Mullen of Brookton, Mass., caught on the Oodry River, N. F., 130 fish in 24 days that weighed 1295 pounds. He paid a rod and reel of $10.00 and used with rod and reel from June 8 to July 5. Total number salmon 116, grille 14, weight 1295 pounds.

For salmon there is no place on this continent that equals the wealth of Newfoundland. This is in accord with reports made by Don C. Seitz, who recently visited there.

LOCAL RED CROSS ACTIVITIES

The local unit of the American Red Cross has installed a Loan Closet in the basement of Eliot Fuller's store and those in need of supplies may communicate with Mrs. Fred S. Brown at 65 Main street.

The ladies of the local chapter have worked faithfully to get this Loan Closet in operation and appreciate the assistance of all who have contributed.

However supplies are constantly needed to replenish the Loan Closet and donations of infants' clothing, bed linen and articles of clothing will be very acceptable.

The unit will meet at the home of Mrs.
Eliot Fuller, Tuesday afternoon, February 9th, at 2:30 o'clock.

The special Hippodrome Program of Mellie and Gram are for sale at the post office and news stands.

Clayton MURPHY is working in the Border News office at Canaan, Vt.

The meeting of the Kiwanis Club was at I. O. O. F. Hall, South Paris, Thursday noon. State Senator Charles B. Carter of Lewiston discussed the question, "Should the Federal law, forbidding the transportation of electric-power be repealed?"

Elgin Greenleaf has been housed with a severe attack of winter-diarrhea. He is gaining now and is soon expected to resume his place at the Weathers.

You can go to Montreal or Quebec and return for $10.00 starting Feb. 19th or 20th, on the Grand Trunk excursion.

Look out for fake advertising! It's N. G., except to the promoters, "Mellie" and "Gram," and that they will not fakirs even in their home town.

Elmer Packard sprained a knee and travels with difficulty and a big limp.

BOWLING

Lions 1434—Desco Tigers 1350
The Norway Lions twisted the tails Desco Tigers at Parlin's alleys, Thursday night. Somehow the Tigers couldn't get under way, they were badly gawed and beaten on every shot. Boynton's Lions entered the contest strong and aggressive, they lived up to the name set by the first scrapper by nipping the Tigers in three strings.

Boynton scooped the board as high string and big total man while Burgess had a lead of four pins over Rusty Herry for second place in the total.

P. Hosmer led the Tigers with the highest single and three string total.

Henry Vancouver's shoemakers nailed another tap on the Norway Lions, Mon-23 pins for the run.

The Vancouver outfit led with a wide margin during the first and second strings but fell into a slack during the third.
Boynton's Lions opened with a sleepy disposition. But as the game progressed, the bunch warmed up and started something real. Their last string tallied 472 and within four pins of Capt. Vancouver's best effort. The rally came too late to save the game.

Parker, of the shoemakers, was high bowler on singles at 115 and on the three-string total with 302. Snow, of the same crowd, cleared an easy second with 297 for the game.

Good strings were hung up by Burgess,

Finds Treasure

Norway people will be interested in the following story as it concerns Leon A.
Emery's fathers at Farmington:

"Sunday morning, when Andrews S.
Emery of Farmington went to build the kitchen for the new house, he found somewhere in the dining room. The kitchen has a falling of hiding when it comes night, so he went to the organ, one he counted to be expected to have expected the peddler to get the kitten and
contained the amount of $5,000 in Central

The local farm bureau had a planning

what the county agent will find a sucker

Ohio People

Visited Norway

The following letter was written by Edmund K. Dye of Eaton, Ohio, on the subject of the Camp Ground, a topic of discussion at the recent Board of Education meeting, and is particularly interesting to local people at this time.

"Two years ago, while on a motor camping trip through New England, I camped in your town. During the winter I received a copy of your paper containing the names of campers during the month of August, our names being in the list.

"We derived a great deal of pleasure from reading the paper, the difference in climate and industries, particularly the severity of your winters and the nature of your farming, being very interesting to us.

"Would you kindly send me another copy of your paper? (Stamps enclosed which I trust will recompense you for your trouble).

"Out of the camps we have visited in four years touring we chose the camp at Norway as the one we liked best.
While it is not as elaborately furnished as some, the location is ideal, with the right amount of shade and situated on high ground as it is."

WINTER SPORT SUGGESTIONS

While reading the suggestion of a hotel in Norway for the accommodation of winter guests, the winter sports, etc., why not mention some of the other available places in the surrounding vicinity of Norway for reports. There seems to be a number of places where one could find suitable camp sites on the Ridge side of the lake for both summer and winter camps if people would only look around and find them, and for skiing and sliding on the hills. With Hill, one of the highest points in the vicinity of the lake, if ice boats are used on the lake a nice hike from the head of the lake would take one to the top of Witt Hill where a tip house could be built in which to rest and have lunch and the hill affords natural ski jumps and places for the many natural winter stunts and sports as well as sight seeing and snowshoeing.

Gram Dunham recommends walking and climbing to make us feel young and keep young, healthy and put the sparkle in our eyes, and the exercise in our toes.
A hike from the lake to the top of the hill would be a real hike, with a rest at the lake "hotel." After a marshmallow roast at a big open fireplace, hot coffee and lunch in the cozy tip house which could be possible.

PARIS TOWN COSTS

Taken From Reports and Compiled by George R. Morton. Show Whether We Are Drifting at Increased Expense
(From the Oxford Democrat)

The figures given here are taken from the reports of the Town of Paris since 1873, and may prove interesting to the voters of the town. The number of scholars given, it was plainly stated in the reports. Since the year 1895 there has been no attempt made to give a plain statement of the number of scholars, but in some cases the average attendance is given. The figures for the last five or six years have from the School Superintendent. These figures show the trend of the times to increase the taxes, and although the number of scholars is a great deal less than fifty years ago, the cost is a great deal larger.

This report shows that in 1873 it cost $4.00 per pupil for the whole expense of schools for 1000 scholars, and in 1925 (which is the report for 1924) it cost $26.30 for the cost of each of 755 scholars.

I also find that the town officers received in 1873 $670.05, and the men doing the same work in 1925 received $4,200.85.

"A letter received by Walter L. Gray from Harry T. Jordan of Keith's Padelphia Theatre tells of the success of South Paris-Norway night there as follows:

"We had a great evening and the whole audience enjoyed it.
Mellie and "Gram" are both in the best of health and having the time of their lives.

"I have had many requests for them to go to dinner and meet prominent people, but on account of Mellie's age I refused them all, as I don't want them to get tired.

"They are both very happy and asked me to tell you and their friends that they have never been treated better in their lives than during the time they have been playing for us.

"We are all very fond of them and pride to have them to Norway in the best of condition.

"I am leaving for Palm Beach tomorrow and hope to have a round of golf and a swim in the ocean Monday.

Proposed Paris

School Budget

Made Out by Supt. A. B. Hayes for the Coming Year
(From the Oxford Democrat)

In accordance with my usual custom, I am publishing the school budget for next year. In doing so I wish to call attention to several features.

We have tried to keep our expenses to the limit. Our outstanding expenses are constant. We have reduced the cost of the building by temporarily abandoning the use of the building. Persons there all agreed it was the wise thing to do. In abandoning this building we saved approximately $375 per year in rent and about $200 in janitor service.

We have reduced our total budget $1,801.20 this year. We have asked for the following extras which will be extraordinary later. We have asked for $1400 for the Shurtliff school building. We have asked for $500 to rebuild the long building which was destroyed by fire. We have asked for $645.80 to cover insurance this year in the big buildings and bol-ders. These extras which with the exception of the insurance will not appear again total, $2,545.80. The insurance will appear in about the same sum in three years. Notwithstanding these extras our budget is $1801.20 smaller than last year. Our actual working budget is therefore $4147.00 smaller.

We have decreased our common school appropriations from $17,977.00 to $16,000.00, our town appropriation from $20,400.00 to $18,800.00. These are the largest accounts, and comprise about 75 per cent of our total appropriation. As I said before, our over-expenditure is constant, and any reduction made from this budget as requested will have to come out of the teachers' salaries. That will mean a loss of good teachers and a direct blow to the town.

Budget:
High School.....$20,400.00
Common Schools.....$18,800.00 Text Books.....$1,500.00

Superintendent's Office.....$1,000.00 Fluorine.....$20.00
Vocational Education.....$2,500.00 Total.....$42,720.00

Weather For January
John Wright submits the following figures for the month of January in comparison with the same period in 1925.
Thermometer readings were taken at 6 A. M. and in a location to make a fair average for the village.

Figures indicate we escaped the long cold spell of one year ago. Aside from two or three all-day zero marks January has not lived up to its reputation as a cold month, neither has the weather been unusually mild as in rare instances.

WEBSTER BEAL GETS IN PLENTY OF GOOD DRY WOOD

Edited by Don C. Sells

1926

Oct. 2—Sunday and a little rainy. Mr. Franklin Manning was buried today. For an escort of the Sons of Temperance. He went to Montreal the first of Sept. and came home sick. He went to town meeting the 12th and the last of his going out. He died on Thursday last very much lamented. The Station House at Island Pond is nearly completed and the Hotel progresses slowly and not yet at plaster 'd. The water in our Mill Pond is very low and a great deal of grinding. I have been making extensive repairs on the dam and grist mill flume.

Oct. 15—Sunday very pleasant day, but very dry. At Island Pond Gorham and Colebrook. Wet weather. Austin Buck died last Wednesday and buried yesterday. Mr. Stevens officiated. Jonathan B. Smith, Baker, Alexander, Luther P. Foster, Charles Parkhurst.

Oct. 20—Pleasant day. On last Monday night there was a very heavy rain, with a heavy wind, causing a good deal of damage near the salt pond. On Friday last was a heavy rain. Both rains had raised the water in the pond 15 inches. The crops the present season have been very good. I am busy engaged on the Rail Road on buildings, Aqueducts and fences. The Hotel at Island Pond is nearly completed. The Engine House in Portland House, which is nearly healthy in this village now.

Nov. 6—Sunday, 2 inches of snow fell this morning. The first in this season in this village. (Clear) off very pleasant and the snow is disappearing. There has been 6 inches of snow 2 weeks since at Island Pond and 5 inches at Norton Point, but none there yesterday. The water has frozen at 1. Pond yesterday. 5 to 6 inches and probably will not open again this fall. There is no meeting at the United House at present. Mr. Stevens having removed to Biddeford one week since with his family. The society here is resting awhile, but will settle a number next spring. I attended court at Lancaster last on a suit as witness. Lary against E. Porter, but the case was continued. Webster has finished up all his harvesting and is now ready for winter with a plenty of dry wood. The water raised the mill pond 15 inches but is very low, but a plenty of grinding, especially wheat. J. & E. W. Howe now carry on the shoe business quite extensively, employing about fifty men and women.

Nov. 17—Thanksgiving Day. Cloudy and likely to snow before tomorrow morning and pretty cold. There has been some little snow since this time but no sleighing. Last Sunday afternoon I commenced a smart rain and continued through the night, making a freshet. The water in the mill pond raised 12 inches over the top of Dam. The water has been very low, making it hardly possible to grind. I am now commencing a store house in Portland, 68x11 1-2 feet for the H. Road. The Engine House, which is the finest in this country, is progressing slowly, will be finished in 4 weeks. The Island Pond Hotel will be finished in 1926.

Oxford County United Parish

We must tell you something about East Statham. The had great "Circles" there last week. You just ought to have been there to have seen the way the people crowded into the vestry. The supper was in charge of Mrs. George McAlister and Mrs. A. E. Nelson. After all were through with the beans and brown bread and pies and cakes, the tables were cleared away and the young people enjoyed some lively games. The evening was closed by a general sing with Mrs. Mabel Barker at the organ. Well, you just ought to be around for one of the Statham suppers. You would go away saying that you were getting back again as soon as you could.

Statham also figures in another item of the parish notes. Did you ever see one of the "grand and glorious feeling" cartoons? If you ever did you will know how one of the ministers staff for last Sunday afternoon. He was riding up toward East Statham, in the face of a young gale, and as he rode along he was saying, "I guess there will be one of the ministers staff for last Sunday afternoon." Then he finally arrived at the church, at Statham, and what do you suppose? He found there the largest number in the congregation that has been out for a service at Statham for many a week. We hope all present had the same "grand and glorious feeling" that the minister had, for that was one time when Mr. Townsend went home happy.

The Sunday school at the "Flat" also made their pastor happy last Sunday. A week ago there were fifty-six present, and people wondered whether that large number would continue to come. Then last Sunday there were fifty-four reported present. That was not a "very large drop," but then you know what some might say. Well, when the record was looked over, a mistake in adding was discovered and instead of fifty-four, the correct present was sixty-four. Now that is great. These present also found some new song books ready for use and it is going to be worth while going to Sunday school just to learn a good number of the songs that are in that well edited book. The children in the primary department also found some tables and chairs waiting for their own special use. We rather think they will want to use them again to use the same. By the way, have any of you people interested in Waterford and the church at the Flat remembered to send in your check to help pay for this new equipment? If you have forgotten it, there are some who have not, for some generous gifts have already been received.

So you have already guessed that Mr. Townsend was at Waterford and East Statham, Sunday, while Mr. Bull went to Albany, and conducted the service at North Waterford in the afternoon. In the service at Albany special music was furnished by the Misses Elizabeth and Helen Coffin, of Gould Academy, who were visiting their aunt, Mrs. Bull, over the week end.

Mrs. Thurston and her scholars entertained at the "Circle" at North Waterford, Tuesday evening, assisted by Miss Hazel Kimball, with some of the young people from her room. At the last moment, however, Mrs. Thurston was kept away by ill health. The supper was followed by an entertainment given by the young people, assisted by several of their able elders. The entertainment was followed by a Community Sing and games. Those present enjoyed a very pleasant evening, but the young ladies who had the affair in charge would have been delighted to have had more present. Remember then, North Waterford, another Circle is coming in two weeks and let's make it go big.

Rev. J. F. Thurston returned on Wednesday, feeling much improved from his last hoping that it will soon be able to "carry on" in the work again, to which he has given himself so freely in the past. The new mimeograph has been 3 or 4 weeks. Very healthy here in Norway at this time. Massachusetts election came off last Monday. The new constitution is defeated. No choice of Governor. The Whigs have elected a plurality of the Legislature, leaving 180 vacancies in the House.

Nov. 27—Sunday. No snow but cold and the ground quite frozen. The cold commenced last Thursday afternoon. There has been a good deal of rain with in 2 weeks—the streams are now full. Our mill pond is full. I am now commencing a second store shed in Portland, 360x41, one high story, also a wood shed at Portland. Mr. DeBurbon Lary had 3 horses and Lyman Green 1 horse killed near B. Burbank's in Shelburne by an engine on the R. Road on the night of the 16th inst. about 5 o'clock. Timothy Frost and L. Partridge, Oliver Marble for water and wood coming over the Railroad from Canada to Portland, a large part of which goes to Boston and New Brunswick. Lumber also comes in large quantities over the railroad.

Dec. 14—Very pleasant weather and has been several weeks and but 2 inches of snow on the ground and consequently no sleighing. Up country great preparation has been made for lumbering, but the want of snow has operated to the injury of the operators. The Rail Road Company are making great arrangements for water and wood coming over the line between Portland and Island Pond. In Portland a large store shed is building on the new R. Road wharf, 168 feet long and another 360 feet long is to be built back side of old Depot. Also a wood house 120 feet long by 25 ft. wide is to be built adjoining the new Engine House. The steamer Sarah Sands is expected to arrive in Portland next week. Last Sunday, Mr. Tenney came from Glover, Vt., today to attend the funeral of Mrs. Tenney. The weather was very good and good sleighing and the first for the winter. Snow came Friday last all rain at Portland. This morning at 5 o'clock the alarm of fire was given. The old schoolhouse was burned with wood shed, and a part of the fire went—no other damage. The steamer Sarah Sands arrived a week ago yesterday with 295 passengers and a full freight and is expected to sail tomorrow.

Note—Mr. Tenney was the father of the late Mrs. Frank Danforth, Mrs. Pliny Allen, and the Rev. Charles R. Tenney.—D. C. S.

Note—Samuel H. Hayden of Boston, Mass., gives us the following information: In your issue of Dec. 23, Ezra F. Beal's Journal, note at bottom of article states that Moses B. Bartlett was father of Allen, Eugene and Warren Bartlett. This is incorrect. A. Smith Bartlett married Mary E., daughter of Thomas G. and Margery F. NORTH BRIDGTON

Golden Wedding Anniversary

Monday, January twenty-fifth, many friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. James Bird of North Bridgton, gathered at their home to pay their respects and tributes to this couple, who were celebrating their golden wedding day. This remarkable pair, who are widely known in this section, and by the many summer visitors who frequent this village each year, kept open house from two to five in the afternoon, and also from seven to nine in the evening. During these hours many came and went and there were a great many from out of town. During the reception a program was held and refreshments were served throughout the day.

This town has been blessed for nearly fifty years as Mr. and Mrs. Bird have spent a greater part of their time in this village. They have both been most prominent in church work and Mr. Bird has been a deacon of the church, during the last of his years here, while Mrs. Bird has been a very active in the church work and still is active in the same. She also was treasurer of the Ladies Circle of the North Bridgton Congregational church for more than twenty years. Mr. Bird is still prominent in the church work and very active in the welfare of the community and village, always looking after the improvement of the town, which is so endeared to him. The high esteem in which this couple is regarded in this section was most evident on Monday.

A large number paid homage to the two, who have lived the life of the two together for the past fifty years, in such a life of service, high ideals, and Christian principles; always standing for the better things of life and constantly aware of the well being of their fellow men. If there were but more of these old New England people, surrounded by such a Christian atmosphere, with the best of the best, and a spirit of service to the better things of life, this modern cry of decay of society would be lessened.

James E. Bird was born in Norway, Dec. 25, 1873, he was married to Miss Martha H. Gould, who was born in North Bridgton, by Rev. Nehemiah Lincoln, their pastor of the North Bridgton Church. They first lived in North Bridgton on the farm now owned by George Greene, but later moved to Snow's Falls.

Staying there only a short time, they went to North Paris, where Mr. Bird was a merchant and postmaster for several years. From there they moved to Albany, where they lived with Deacon Lovejoy and wife. However, they came back to North Bridgton where they have spent the majority of their married life. They first lived in the place now owned by Andrew Jordan, of the Long Lake and then moved up into the village in the house now owned by the Marsh sisters. A few years ago they sold this brick house to the present owner, but they still own it. It was in the year 1897 that they moved back to North Bridgton for their final return, and it was when the narrow gauge railroad was put through here that Mr. Bird became station agent, which position he held for fourteen years.

They had no children but they brought up a nephew, Fred J. Bird, now of Worcester, Mass., who surprised them by arriving in time for the festivities. The esteem in which this couple is held is shown by the many, many presents, letters and remembrances, which they received, including a good many pieces of gold. The program which was carried out in the evening was as follows:

Singing
Duet—Mrs. Lakin and J. G. Chadbourne Reading, Original Poem—Mrs. E. O. Chadbourne Remarks and Presentation of Gifts from the Ladies Circle—Mrs. Lakin Solo—Mrs. J. G. Chadbourne
Among those present were Fred J. Bird of Worcester, Mrs. and Mrs. W. L. Dingle, Mrs. Mildred Dudley, of Harrison, and Mrs. J. G. Chadbourne, of Norway. Mrs. Frederick Allen has returned from Farmington, where she was called by the illness of her mother, Mrs. Stone.

Mrs. Edith Jodie pleasantly entertained the Christmas Club, Thursday evening, Jan. 28th.

Mrs. Lee Elliott was the hostess of the Round Table Club, Thursday afternoon at her home on the Hill. There was a Whist, "63" and cribbage were played and a splendid lunch served of apple pie, ice cream, coffee, cake and fancy cookies.

Assistant Steward Edith Barrett and Lady Assistant Steward Hazel Yeaton are the next to line.

To make the meeting go along fine, Chaplain Mrs. Hunting is next on the list. She's one that never fails to assist. Treasurer Mr. G. Tyner is next on the Book. When bills are to be paid, they give him the book.

LOW PRICED SIX-CYLINDER CARS

"With prices of well engineered six-cylinder cars such as the Essex so low, and with values from every standpoint so high, there is no reason why any motor car buyer in 1926 should be satisfied with anything less than a 'six'."

This foregoing statement—in line with numerous forecasts that "1926 will be a six cylinder year"—was made recently by Harry A. Miller of Los Angeles, the world-famous builder of racing cars, in connection with the purchase by Mr. Miller's 20-year old son, Ted Miller, of an Essex six for his personal use. News of the purchase and of the noted expert's opinion have just reached F. B. Fogg, Hudson-Essex dealer.

Wise Selection
The celebrated motor engineer said when asked for a forecast which might be made public: "Those who have forecast this year as one in which the 'six' will dominate and in which new automobiles will feature six-cylinder motors as most of the bodies at moderate prices, are absolutely right I believe."

"Although I build eight-cylinder racing cars and have an 'eight' for my personal use, I am proud of a 'six' which frequently drive. I stoutly believe that my son made a wise selection in buying an Essex coach. It is a well designed motor car and well worth more than the price asked for it." Asked if he might be quoted as to Essex design and value, Miller replied, "It's just the truth, isn't it?"

That the statement of an noted engineering authority as Harry A. Miller, whose fame is not only nationwide but known and respected throughout Europe, stands for the better things of life and constantly aware of the well being of their fellow men. If there were but more of these old New England people, surrounded by such a Christian atmosphere, with the best of the best, and a spirit of service to the better things of life, this modern cry of decay of society would be lessened.

Staying there only a short time, they went to North Paris, where Mr. Bird was a merchant and postmaster for several years. From there they moved to Albany, where they lived with Deacon Lovejoy and wife. However, they came back to North Bridgton where they have spent the majority of their married life. They first lived in the place now owned by Andrew Jordan, of the Long Lake and then moved up into the village in the house now owned by the Marsh sisters. A few years ago they sold this brick house to the present owner, but they still own it. It was in the year 1897 that they moved back to North Bridgton for their final return, and it was when the narrow gauge railroad was put through here that Mr. Bird became station agent, which position he held for fourteen years.

They had no children but they brought up a nephew, Fred J. Bird, now of Worcester, Mass., who surprised them by arriving in time for the festivities. The esteem in which this couple is held is shown by the many, many presents, letters and remembrances, which they received, including a good many pieces of gold. The program which was carried out in the evening was as follows:
